DENISE COTE, District Judge:

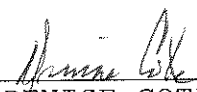

In 1999, Carmen Velasquez pleaded guilty to a crime in this Court. Velasquez has now requested expungement of that conviction. It is hereby ORDERED that Velasquez's request is denied. Federal law does not grant district courts the authority to expunge records of federal criminal convictions. Doe v. United States, 833 F.3d 192, 199 (2d Cir. 2016).

Velasquez is hereby

ADVISED that executive clemency may offer her the relief she seeks. Information on applying for executive clemency is available at <https://www.justice.gov/pardon>.
